

Checklist & Self-Reflection: Entrepreneurial Behaviours

Use this checklist to self-assess how well you might be suited to a particular future career scenario that involves a field affected by advanced technologies or globalisation. If you feel you always demonstrate these behaviours, tick the box; otherwise write your comments in the space below each.

Confidence (a feeling of trust in one's abilities, qualities, and judgement)

Initiative (to take action by choice, not as a response to direct supervision)

Innovation and creativity (new ideas, methods or plans: "thinking outside the box")

Global competency and empathy (knowing about the world – its cultures, languages and how its economic, environmental and social systems work and being able to see these things from another's perspective)

Awareness of opportunity (ability to see and explore the variety of available learning / career options)

Willingness to take risks (ability to make needed changes after weighing up the possible costs or dangers to one's-self and others)

Applied to a range of contexts (ability to apply entrepreneurial behaviours in different situations, to challenge one's "comfort zone")